Peki Sub Zero (-18°C) Semi Trailer

With over 5,000 innovative transport solutions designed and built by trailer manufacturer Peki assisting in fulfilling Australia's growing freight task, the Company will showcase its Sub Zero (-18°C) semi trailer at the upcoming Melbourne Truck and Trailer show.

The ITTES display unit was purpose built to comply with Woolworth's distribution operations, and the high quality body panels provided a perfect base to showcase Woolworth's new livery

The Sub Zero is designed to operate at temperatures down to -18°C, and features fully insulated walls, floor, roof and doors. The structure incorporates 85mm insulated roof and 100mm insulated front wall panels, 100mm insulated floor and 25mm insulated fibreglass side walls. The side wall thickness provides critical additional interior pallet width.

Ideal for metropolitan distribution of produce and frozen food including dairy products, the Sub Zero trailer is equipped with a range of standard equipment including LED multi-volt lights; encrypta security seals; polished aluminium and rubber mudguards; heavy duty galvanised rear bumper bar; dual tyre carrier with safety cables and wheel clamps and hub odometer to aid maintenance scheduling. The trailer is also fitted with BPW Disc brakes (including ABS and EBS) and BPW suspension, and is covered by a three year warranty.

Peki also provides owners with a personalised maintenance program to prolong the working life and operational efficiency of their Peki trailer or van, as part of the Company's focus on ongoing customer service support.

Visitors to the Peki stand at the ITTES are sure to be impressed with the Company's commitment to working to satisfy customers' load, performance and individual customisation needs.
